Medicare enrollment help for Union Members

Choosing Medicare insurance coverage is one of the most important decisions you’ll have to make. The Union Plus Retiree Health Insurance Program can help you make the right decision.

The Union Plus Retiree Health Insurance Program is a valuable resource that can help you better understand how Medicare works and which types of coverage make the best sense for you.

Licensed eHealth Insurance advisors are there to help you select the plan best suited to meet your needs.

The Union Plus Retiree Health Insurance program provides:

- A choice of Medicare insurance plans from up to 30 trusted providers
- Personalized advice from Medicare insurance advisors licensed in all 50 states
- eHealth’s Better Business Bureau A+ rating
- No obligation to enroll in a plan
- Available to Medicare eligible spouses and family members eHealth is a registered trademark of eHealthInsurance Services, Inc., a licensed health insurance agent and/or broker who markets products that do not issue policies, but are sold by Medicare plans or insurance carriers that do issue policies. Medicare beneficiaries are not obligated to enroll in an eHealth plan.

1. Members answer a few questions online and are provided several quotes for coverage from MetLife as well as other carriers on the platform.

2. Members then complete the process by speaking with a MetLife agent in the call center regardless of carrier preference.

3. Members who bypass the quoting engine online, still receive multiple carrier quotes by calling the call center directly.
